NEGLECT AND PROTEST.

A gentleman who recently came overland from the Sputh speaks of the tremendous boom? that has visited California and expresses surprise that land of equal fertility and napable of yielding the same products in many instances, sells here often for one-tenth the price asked there. Such remark is of common occurrence, for there is increasing travel over the Oregon & California railroad, and those who come over it have appointed to productive and wall as productive and must also realize that our seasons are fine and even delightful. January, indeed, gave our portion of the Pacifica touch of winter, but it was not confined to this latitude. It extended to the sunniest shies that California boasts. The cold weather lasted as long at Loe Angeles as here at Bestleville. here at Portland; snow fell in their foothills and in some of their vallers, and tes formed half an inch thick. The frost killed bannas five years old and sectionally injured other varieties of semi-tropical truits.

Though that louch of winter was exceptionally severe in Gregor, this state had no mononally severe in Oregon, this state had no monopcly of the same, but nature sent her Arctic ony of the same, but hadre sent her article favore with even-handed justice down the coast a thousand miles. Cold did far more injury to fruits in Southern California than here, and such is invertably the fact. Of course people go there for climate and through the winter Southern California enjoys more sunshine and bas a higher temperature than Oregon, but when a comparison is made of all the seasons and our delightful summer time comes in contact with that of any other state or country, and our spring and autumnal seasons are realized in all the beauty of promise and fullness of fruition. certainly, there is no state or nation on the earth that can boast of seasons more enjoyable or of a country richer in resources.

The traveler who comes from California the present month may well wonder why the "boom" that enlivens California real estate "boom" that enlivens California real estate transactions has not reached Oregon, when he realizes how charming this February weather is and sees throughout the state, all the teams at the plow and spring sowing in progress. Gardens are all-eady being planted, and even now the pastures of Oregon are green with growing grasses. There is no more beautiful country and none where the seasons—despite the sumstimes continued rains of winter—as they comis and go, give such healthful and equable variety, and so few terms of excessive heat and cold. Take the year round, we have tees of excold. Take the year round, we have less of ex-tremes, fewer viciositudes of climate, and a perreact exemption from storms and meteorological daugars. The sky bears no threat for us and the ocean sends no wrecking tempest to the shore. The cyclone and bilizzard are strangers here and the idea of dauger from the elements stranger to our thoughts.

When the rest of the world realizes the many advantages of soil, climate and production that nature has nonterred on the North Pacific agion, we may expect appreciation to follow, and no dchib! "hooms" will be the order of the day. But our state is saily deficient in one re-spect—which, however, is not a natural defect California is heroughly advertised abroad, and every effort is made to let the world know the every there is made to ist the world know the advantages the possesses and la able to confer. All the West is being thus made known, but Origin seems to be waiting for nature to send agents abroad to advertise her chims to notice. Nature produces what answers this purpose to some extent, but our region should have an active system of work going on to make the world wave of what he section offers to immercials. There is containly a lack of enterprise in this respect. No merchant will success who does not advertise, not can say country become known to adventage without it. Our state is ignored in railroad management, and no externation fickets to Portland can be bought for the same price they on the California. A gentleman now in Fortland got a ticket from Kansas City to San Francisco, tirst-class, good for six months, with stou-over privileges, for $60 the months, with stup-over privileges, for $460 the round trip. He tried to get an excursion rate to Portland from Kaness City, but it could not be had at any price. The Northern roads seem to ignore any intention to encourage travel to the Encific Northwest—either to Portland or Tacons—on the principle granted by the Southern Parific to California. ern Pacific to California. Undoubtedly there would be more travel this way it there were ex-cursion rates, and perhaps the time may come when such rates will be made and a stream of travel visit our part of the Pacific coast and

CONSOLIDATION, NOT DIVISION.

The East Portland Vindicator wants Multno-The East Portland Vindicator wants Multnomah county divided by the line of the Wildemette river. The argument is that "East Portland, as the seat of a new county, would at occaspring into importance as a sommercial mert. The city is now handleapped by her relations with Portland." Further, "East Portland will never be a city until the county business is transceted on the side of the plant! rers is transacted on this side of the river."
It is difficult to regard these as serious statements. To the growth of East Portland as a commercial mart" the present county arrange ment offers not the slightest hindren organization of a new county, with all the ex-rense attendant upon meintaining it, merely to secure "irananction of county besines on the east side of the first," would be agont the nuld be paid for such such pered advantage. Mai remance of another set of county officials we test would not open the way to more main progress and higher pros-perity for East Fordand. What would be of Beere advantage to Flast Portland than anythin elects straining to hast Pertand that anything elects in universal independent with Pertand. The growing leading, based on sound principles of numerical consolidation. This is the case in every center of population in the civilized within Lendon, New York, Bullandsphin, Calendon, Calendon, New York, Bullandsphin, Calendon, Cal Second all other either here evallawed their enburts, and Sr. Pan-and Hencapolis are now to be united in one city. Not county division, but municipal consoliration is what our people, including these of Essle Pertland, really want, and it is what they will ask the legislature, as He next ression, to give them. And the alvantages to East Portland certainly will not be less

IF MUST BE FAIR.

Some of the woolen manufacturers of the East have been advocating the removal of the wool duty, but refusing to assent to the removal of the duty from woolen goods. This is a selfish of the duty from woolen goods. This is a selfish and inconsistent position, which the country will not tolerate. Some of these manufacturers were before the ways and means committee recently for the purpose of stating their views. McKinley, of Ohlo, plainly told their that a free wool yote would be followed at once by a free woolen yote since the representatives of the great springingthms interests of the country would not permit the laws to discriminate in the way in favor of the manufacturers. To compet the wool growers to compete with foreign wool, and jet protect the manufacturer against competition with foreign goods, would be the accine of legislation in behalf of a privileged class. It would cut the wool growers of entirely and would cut the wool growers off satirols and give everything to the manufacturers and capi-lalists. Yet a suggestion to this effect seems to have over implied in the president's message, since, in his argument for free wool he did not argue for free woolens. If manufacturers are to get their wool free of duty the people must have woolens free of duty. These conditions are the two balves of the same thing.

THE OREGONIAN does not regard the doctrine of protection as a sound economical principle But it is opposed to revision of the tariff on principles that would seeme special privileges to the representatives of special interests, and strip other interests of the benefits of protection. If wond is to be put on the free list sugar ought to be put on the free list too. Indeed there are to be pet of the free list too. Indeed there are better arguments for reduction or total repeal of the duty on sugar than of the duty on wool, since only a very few persons are engaged in the production of sugar in the United States, while wool is a production of nearly every quarter of the Union. Moreover, if the duty on wool is repealed every other duty ought to be repealed also; for if wood is not entitled to protection then the whole system of protection nught to be given up, the custom laws should be abolished and the country should have free trade, pure, simple and absolute.

If is beyond question that the dominant sentiment of the country desires a revision of the tariff, including great reductions. Such revision and reductions ought not to be postponed. The work ought, indeed, to have been done to be the country of the the method indicated by the long ago. But the method indicated by the course of the dominant party in congress is not a fair one. It is based on regard for partian whahes and interests rather than on regard for the interests of the country. The republican garly does not oppose revision and reduction.

After the war, and as long as it was in power in the house of representatives, the republican party steadily reduced the tartiff. It cannot now, nor will it, put itself in an attitude of opposition to revision and reduction. But it will resist the unfair methods that have been proposed by the democratic party, and will appeal

His Sons Looked Up to the City Juli as a Means of Correction-Remarkable Action by the Objet of Police.

The strange and severe method adopted by Mr.

J. G. Warner for the correction of his sons, menlloned yesterday morning, was the subject of general inquiry and discussion in the city yesterday. It seems that the father and sons, one of whom is 18 years old and the other two years younger, hase not lived in harmony togother for some months past. In Janutary last, the elder son, then a student in the high school, was ordered to leave his father's house. He made his own way, continuing in school and graduating with the last class. After his gruduation, a truce was patched up and the Ernest Renan, in his "Studies in Religious History," speaks of the relation of man to the universe. The alm of humanity will ever grow higher. Intellectual culture will gradually exclude a supernatural helief, but religion will never be excluded; it will but grow grander and nobler as intellectual culture disalpates the mists of supernatural helief, but religion will never be excluded; it will but grow grander and nobler as intellectual culture disalpates the caprice of an unuseen osting who looks upon his struggles and safferings with Indifference. But his a part of, and dependent upon the whole universe, and bis duty is to conform himself to the order of progress and development which he universe he following. To strive fathfully for the supreme good is witnes; to seek to bring about the higher development of man is the work of the world.

Philadelphis erected more buildings last year than during any year of its history. The total was 7005. Of these 7200 are dwellings. From these figures it is estimated that Philadelphia's gain in population last year was 40 000. The estimate of the present population of the city is 1,042,170.

Mr. Christoph Fink, Hampton, Jowa, February 6, 1857, writes: "St. Jacobs Oil is a wonderful remedy for bruises and many similar complaints. I can recommend it in every way." The Foreman of the Pennsylvania Freight Warehouse, Mr. David Barlet, Jr., writes February 11, 1857, from Editheria, Br. arlet, Jr., writes February 11, 1887, from Bartet, Jr., writes February 11, 1887, from Ballefente, Pa., as follows: "I can truthfully say St. Jacobs Oil is the best remedy for bruises, cuts or sprains." Ernises, sprains, cuts and wounds, whether by accident or design, are, as the foregoing show, cared promptly and permanently, and there is no reason to doubt a sure cure in the cheapest way possible.

restrictions which the United States have placed on Chinese himigration?"
"None at all," was the repty. "We are trying to restrict to urselves. Those who come here from China belong to the pauper classes. We are trying to stop the exodus, because we do not wish for the Americans to think that we have nothing but paupers in our country. We are much more concerned in the protection of our commercial relations with the United States, and our merchant-doing business in America. That is 'China's ohier concern. We wish to extend our commercial relations with this country as much as possible, and to do so, our merchants in America must be protected. Concerning this, however, we have no fear, as we rely upon the fairness and justice of the American government."

She is well and bearty as a girl of twenty. The cure is certainly worderful, and ought to fill Dr. Darrin's office with patients. This is only one of the many cures we have heard of recently.

Five months have enlayed since I was cured; and I feel certain that the cure is permanant. I have also been allifeted with a combination of chronic diseases; and have been very much benefited through Dr. Darrin's klictic-disgrate, system of cure, and would like all those similarly afflicted to know it.
